Mr. Davis was very un-willing to enter the Cabinet, from personal considerations, but yielded them to the President's urgent desire to have him in the War Department. The nominations will therefore be sent to the Senate on Monday, in the follow-

thing definite as to the foreign appointments. As yo nothing has been definitely arranged. It is, however known that Mr. Soulé will go either to Paris or Madrid as he may select. LEGISLATIVE BUSINESS—THE CODE—THE BROADWAY RAILROAD, ETC.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE NEW YORK HERALD.

ALRANY, March 5, 1853. The bill ceding to the United States jurisdiction over a portion of land adjoining the Brooklyn Navy Yard, for government purposes, passed the Senate to-day. Brooklyn reserves the right of grading the streets, &c.

This whole week has been spent in talking about ab tractions. An effort was made to-day to hold two sessions a day, but it failed.

The Code, which was reported some two years agomaking eight hundred printed pages-was up for consideration in the House to-day. It was agreed to have it re-printed, and in two weeks it is to be called up for discussion, when it will be run through without any, as the former portions were two years since.

The bill from the Senate consolidating the Central Line of Railroad was reported in favor of in the House. There of Railroad was reported in favor of in the House. There is considerable opposition gathering, but the power which the railroad possesses will carry it through. There is a sharp argument going on before the Railroad Committee of the Heuse on the Anti-Broadway bill. Messrs. Dudley Field and Samuel Jones appear on the part of the Aldermen and the Sharp grant, and Mr. Davis on the side of the opposition. Mr. O'Sullivan is constantly in attendance, as well as a large number of others of the company. The object is to prevent the committee making a report in favor of the Senate bill. Many of the rural members, since the indictment of the two Aldermen, begin to think there must have been corruption in the Broadway matter. Many others have been converted, besides Mr. Shaw.

Gov. Feymour has not been in attendance on public business since Thursday, being confined to his residence by illness.

THE BILL TO AMEND THE CODE

Mr. St. John made a minority report against the bill.

Mr LOOMS brought up his report on the Code, and

Mr. Burrours said the report could not be printed by Mr. W. Tavion said if the House did its duty with the bill, the Senate could not attend to it. He hoped the Banking Excitement in the Indiana Legis-lature.

Indianapolis, March 5, 1853. Great excitement exists in our Legislature relative to the bill pending for increasing the deposites as security for free banks, and imposing other restrictions. It is supported by the State bankers and banks, while the non. resident free bankers have succeeded thus far in with drawing enough members from the House to prevent a quorum. The House was in ression all yesterday and last night. The bolters remain firm, and it is quite likely will hold out, unless the majority agree to compromise the matter. The Legislature finally adjourns to-night.

He was going in person to survey his new possession, but, instead of carrying a sum of $2,500 about him, preferred consigning it to the mails. On arriving at the town which was the terminus of his journey, he inquired at the post office for the letter which contained the treasure, but, owing to a failure of the mail on that particular day, or some other cause, he did not receive it. The alleged loss was communicated to the department in this city, and prompt measures were adopted to ferret out the cause. On the 2sth ult., however, the letter, enclosing five five hundred dollar bills, in good money, was received at the 2sta dis., however, the letter, enclosing hye hive hundred dollar bills, in good money, was received at the general post office in Washington, as a "dead letter." One of the most numerous meetings we have ever seen within the capacious walls of Metropelitan Hall, was held last evening, in pursuance to public requisition, of those in favor of the immediate reorganization of the Common Council and the reconstruction of the charter, so that the members of the two boards shall be elected from districts of different magnitude, as in the case of powers, and so that the veto power of the Mayor shall be enlarged, and our municipal elections held in the spring instead of the fall. Every seat and standing place in the body, boxes, and galleries, were occupied. It was a sig-nificant meeting, and if it works the end for which it was convened, it will prove to be a most important

the following address:—

The absence of all economy in the expenses of the city—the disposition to add to its permanent debt, and that with a new feature for annual repairs—the frequent discharge without trial, by Aldermen, of persons arrested for crime—the grant of valuable franchises and property without adequate remuneration—and the evidences of extravagance, abuse of powers, favoritism, and mismanagemnet which appear in our municipal government—have induced the people of this city to meet together this evening to secure the great object of city reform. The present chief magistrate of the United States has wisely stated in his inaugural address, that in the administration of domestic affairs the people expect a devoted integrity in the public service, and an observance of rigid economy, in all departments, so marked as never to be questioned; and he truly adds that "without diligence, integrity, and capacity, wherever there are daties to be performed, more stringent laws for the prevention or punishment of fraud will be vain." These truths have been impressed upon us at every step of our progress; and hence, in the call of this meeting, the true physical capacity, where the contraction is the call of this meeting, the true physical capacity and hence. In the call of this meeting, the true physical capacity, where the capacity is an annual capacity and the capacity and the capacity is a capacity and the capac questioned; and he truly adds that "without diligence, integrity, and capacity, wherever there are duties to be performed, more stringent laws for the prevention or punishment of fraud will be valu." These truths have been impressed upon as at every step of our progress; and hence, in the call of this meeting, the two objects, a reorganization of the Common Council and such amoudments of the city charter as recent experience has shown to be necessary, were jointly proposed. In asking for these changes, no diminution of chartered rights is thought of. The power of the people must be represented in government, or it will be weak and inefficient. No violation of any of the principles which lie at the foundation of free institutions, will be accepted. On the contrary, we ask that the local government of our efty may be made to conform to those principles. In the original fabric of all our constitutions, a system of powers and checks has been happily combined, A Senate and Assembly, representing constituencies of different magnitude, is a feature recognized in American government, except alone that of this city. Here the same district elects a representative to both boards of the Common Council, and hence the che k intended by the fathers of the government on the part of one branch of the legislature over another, is not found in our local government. This departure from a recognized system needs to be corrected. Into most American constitutions the veto power, representing one elective department of the government, has been justly incorporated One of its principal objects has heen to guard the people against haste, extravagance, and abuse, in legislation. In order to do this, and yet not impair the efficiency of legislative action, it has been made an effective power, and more voteaus ordinarily required to overthrow a veto than was originally necessary to pass the measure on which it has been exercised. In our city charter, the vote is also entered the progret persons that the measure on which it has been remed an

ple the question, whether or not the term of a newly elected Hoard shall commence at the enaling spring, or at the end of the term of the present incumbents. The President of the United States has wisely stated that "offices can be properly regarded only in the light of aids for the accomplishment of public objects." The present clearter in the matters specified has been found to be clearly defective, and there would seem to be no just reason for continuing its operation to gratify public officers at the expense of the public interest. The charter adopted in 1840 was prepared by a committee of citizens; it passed the Legislature in April of that year; it was submitted for approval on the second Tuesday of the same month; it provided that these aldermen and assistants who should be elected under the previous charter, on the second Tuesday of April, should hold office only until the late of January resulting. But if further provided that the amendmets, if approved by a majority of the electors, should go into effect on the first Tuesday of June following. A new frame of government was thus adopted in about two months from the first passage of the act through the State Legislature. The charter then adopted contains many new and wise provisions; but there are deficiencies which experience has made apparent and the amendments now proposed are merely intended to carry out the manifest objects them sought to be accomplished, and they are necessary to give to the government of the city that character which is stan ped upon all our State constitutions. Such being their nature, it would seem to be proper to give them immediate effect. It would be unjustand inexperience of the people. The people of this city are wholly competent to manage their own affairs, and will pass upon any amendments; but they have no power to amend the charter, except with the authority of the Legislature. They apply for this authority in the full confidence that the voice of a great community, determined to escape from the evils of mis government ing, and delivered an eloquent, humorous, and sarcas speech, which was received with enthusiasm. At the conclusion of Mr. Gerard's address, the follow ng resolutions were proposed and unanimously adopted:-Whereas. The government of the city of New York, in consideration of the vast material and moral interests committed to its care, should be provided with all those checks and guards which are found essential, in both our national and State constitutions, to the preservation of integrity and economy in the administration of public affairs, therefore—departments of the city government should be kept as parate and independent of each other in all respects and that in each department the principle of responsibility to the people, ought to be made as direct and effect tive as nossible.

Resolved, That the legislative, judicial and executive decontracts of the city covernment, and the legislative in the constitution of the city covernment.

partie and independent of each other in all respects, and that in each department the principle of responsibility to the people, ought to be made as direct and effective as possible.

Recoived, 1. That the legislative power should be vested in a Common Council, consisting of two branches, un equal in the number of their members, representing different constituencies, and holding office for unequal terms; that the members of the smaller body should go out by classes, and that the more popular branch should be so numerous as to make each member directly and immediately responsible to his own constituents. 2. That judicial powers should be exercised exclusively by persons elected for that special office and for that alone. 3. That the executive power should be vested in the Mayor, heads of departments and the police. That the Mayor should have a veto upon all enactments of the Common Council, and no ordinance thus vetoed should become a law, unless re-enacted by at least two-thirds of all the members elected to each branch of the Common Council. That the heads of departments should have no powers but such as may be conferred upon them by law: And that the Police Department should have no powers but such as may be conferred upon them by law: And that the Police Department should have no powers but such as may be conferred upon them by law: And that the Police Department should be so organized as permanently to secure integrity, stability, and the highest degree of efficiency in its practical operation.

Resolved, That no expenditure of public money should be allowed, and no debt or liability of any kind incurred, unleas it be first authorized by a specific law, and that full provision should be made for carefully audicing the accounts of public officers.

Resolved, That the election for city officers should be held at a different time from that appointed for electing officer of the State and National governments.

Resolved, That the election for office by delegates thosen at primary w ceifings; and that in order to

from the violence and corruption which seem inseparable from that as stem, in the choice of city officers, resort is recommended to the practice of voluntary and aponta-neous nominations, which in other sections of the Union prevails in regard to offices of every grade.

Resolved, That the following persons be appointed a committee, with power to fill vacancies, to solicit from the State Legislature such amendments to the city charter as shall make it conform to the principles, and attain the objects, set forth in the foregoing resolutions; and also secure a provision for submitting such amendments at the Legislature may adopt, at the earliest pessible moment, to the vote of the people, and for enabling the new officers who may be elected in accordance with them, to enter upon the discharge of their duties by the first Tuesday in May next.

WITCHCRAFT IN PENNSYVANIA.—The Chambersburg (Pa.) Whig, of the 17th inst., relates the following singular instance of superstition, which proves that the belief in witchcraft is not yet done away with:—"A correspondent, writing from Fulton county, informs us of a singular case of supposed witchcraft that occurred near Sidling Hill. There is a certain religious sect in that neighborhood, calling themselves the Christian Church. A lady, one of the members, was taken sick and lay for some time, until she finally imagined herself bewitched, and a sister in the church was settled upon as the witch. A meeting of the session was called in due season, at which the minister presided, and the charge of witchcraft was formally preferred against the lady. Being a new case, and we presume, not provided for in the discipline, the session was puzzled as to the proper manner to proceed in the case. At length it was proposed that she should be asked to step over a broomstick, as it had been said that a witch could not do so; but the accused got over it without apparent difficulty. After a consultation it was then agreed that she should be tried in a pair of weigh-scales, with a Bible to balance her, and if she was a witch the Bible would be too heavy for her. Accordingly she was taken to a mill, and the experiment tried; but she proved too heavy for the Bible. It was then intimated that probably her clothing prevented a circum. witch the Bible would be too heavy for her. Accordingly she was taken to a mill, and the experiment tried; but she proved too heavy for the Bible. It was then intimated that probably her clothing prevented a fair test, and half a bushel of corn was put on the scales with the Bible, to balance the clothing, but still the lady was too heavy, and the charge was formally dismissed."

NEW CHURCHES.

The Third Presbytery of New York has determined to organize a new Presbyterian Church in the Seventeenth ward of this city. An application to this effect was made to the Presbytery, by about fifty individuals, some weeks since. A congregation has been gathered under the missionary labors of the Rev. F. S. Howe, employed by the Missionary Association of the Mercer street Prabyterian Church.

It is reported that the Church and Society under the charge of Rev. Dr. Neale, contemplate disposing of their house of worship on the corner of Union and Hanover streets, Boston, with the view of crecting a new house in some more favorable locality.

A new Presbyterian Church, at Spring brook, a small village in the woods, about twelve miles from Buffalo, was dedicated on the 3d inst. Rev. Dr. Cobb is the pastor.

In Bos'on, the pastorates of Unitarian, Universalist, and Esptist clergymen, exceed those of the other denominations. Dr. Lowell, of the West Church, was settled in 1800. Dr. Sharp, of the Charles street Esptist Church, io 1812. Dr. Gannett and Rev Mr. Streeter, in 1824. Dr. Berrett and Dr. Young, in 1825. Rev. Mr. Worcester and Rev. E. T. Taylor, in 1828. Rev. Chandler Robbins, in 1833. But nine clergymen are now connected with parishes in Boston who have been settled for twenty years. Within a short time Drs. Frothingham and Parkwan have resigned their pastorates, and Rev. Hosea Balleu has died. These clergymen remained with their parishes for a period of thirty years. Thirty-seven of the one hundred and two churches in Boston have pastors, which have been settled within the five past years. The $50,000 Church Fund has all been raised. It is about eight weeks since the collections for this object were commenced, and now, as the result of the effort, the committee have fifty thousand dollars to appropriate to the noble object of siding our large and constantly and rapidly increasing Western population to build for themselves houses in which to worship God. The project was a noble one; it has been nobly carried through, and frem it will flow results the happy influence of which eternity alone will reveal.

The fiftieth anniversary of the introduction of Methodism into Cincinnatt, will be commemorated by a celebration to be held in Wesley Chasel, on the afternoon and evening of the 7th of March.
